STRETCH & WRAPPINGS FILM

About Us

At Om Sai Polypack Stretch film, we combine over 30 years of hands-on experience in the plastic industry with a bold vision for modern packaging solutions. While we continue to successfully run Sai Polypack and Shree Sai Polypack, our newest venture is dedicated exclusively to the manufacturing of high-performance stretch and wrap films.

Built on deep industry insight and powered by advanced technology, Om Sai Polypack delivers reliable, efficient, and eco-conscious packaging that protects what matters most. Our state-of-the-art facility boasts a daily production capacity of 10 tons, enabling us to serve diverse industries with consistency and speed.

We don't just manufacture stretch films—we engineer protection, performance, and peace of mind.

Our Mission

We are dedicated to leading the stretch film market through innovation, precision, and trust. With smart wrap, we deliver high-quality, performance-driven products that protect your goods with reliability and care. Rooted in sustainability and driven by customer satisfaction, every roll we create is a reflection of our promise - to wrap the world in excellence.

Our Vision

To revolutionize the packaging industry by delivering high-performance stretch film solutions that stand for strength, sustainability, and precision. At Om Sai Poly Pack, we aim to lead globally by setting new standards in quality and innovation—ensuring every wrap we create adds value, secures trust, and supports the dynamic needs of industries worldwide. Our vision is to be more than a product—to be a promise of protection.
